

Exploring the vital signs of the NHS

Conference Workshop 28th September 2013

Facilitator
Edmund Cross

In this workshop participants will explore the structure and relationships in the new NHS. Participants will:

- Gain knowledge of the structures of the NHS environment
- Explore relationships between different parts of the system
- Develop understanding of the commissioning cycle
- Consider service review in this context

This workshop will be interactive and discussions of the tensions and dilemmas facing professionals working in the system will help participants remember the structures.

Feedback from previous participants on similar workshops:

- Excellent session on NHS structure and proposed changes. Brought a lot of aspects into focus. Could have spent more time on this interesting learning about NHS structures

Edmund Cross -Biographical Summary

Edmund has more than 25 years experience at clinical operational and strategic levels in the health service and other public sector organisations, across England, Scotland and Ireland.

He currently runs the Management Course for Specialist Registrars for the Yorkshire and the Humber Deanery.